THE HOME NEWS.

City Council meets Monday night.
Only a few friendly drunks Monday.

Total assessed value of all property in Garrard for 1902 is $4,550,119.

The report that the Masonic order would give an entertainment is a fake. At least the members have heard nothing of it.

Many requests were made for a repetition of the Continental Kettledrum, but the management wisely concluded to let good enough alone.

Dr. Goldstein Coming.

Dr. R. Goldstein, the celebrated optician, will be at the Mason Hotel next Monday, the 3rd for one day only.

Remember the date, and be on hand early, as he will remain for that day only.

Late Train.

Passenger train No. 4, due here at 2:44, arrived Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock, and yesterday morning came lumbering in at 5. A southern connection at Jellico causes these "lay outs".

Henry Lammers' engine got out of whack at Richmond Monday morning, and another had to be sent from Paris, delaying the south-bound train an hour or more. While the 334-is in the shops, Mr. Lammers has a "hog" en gine.

Open Session.

An open session of the Christian Endeavor will be held at the Christian church Sunday evening, beginning at 7 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend. These meetings are very enjoyable, and you will be benefitted by going.

Mule Trade Good.

Mr. W. B. Burton returned Saturday night from Norfolk, Va., where he took a car load of mules. He says the market was good and he came out all right with them. Mr. Burton has a wide reputation as a horse and mule man, and never lets a good one pass him. If you have a good animal for sale, "Billy" will give you every cent he is worth, and you have no excuse to prance off to other towns to sell your stock.

Please Sign.

An interesting item was sent us from Lowell this week, but the writer failed to sign his name. For the steenth time, we will say PLEASE SIGN YOUR NAME to all contributions, so we will know they come from responsible parties.

Will Be Repeated.

The candy pulling, given by the "Junior Endeavor" Saturday, was so great a success that it will be repeated next Saturday afternoon. Admission ten cents. Remember the place, room just above Presbyterian church, Danville avenue. Orders for fresh candy promptly filled.

Court Day.

The bitter cold weather kept many at home Monday, so the crowd was small. Those who came in attended to what business they had and made tall tracks for home as soon as possible. The merchants report business as light. The stock sales are reported in another column.

Postmaster West Reappointed.
A Washington telegram says Postmaster West has been reappointed for another term. He has made a good official. We take occasion here to say that his deputy, Mr. Louis West, is also one of the most proficient and accomodating officials the local office ever had.

Pair of Fine Ones.

Mr. J. F Adams sold to Jas. Heaver, of Florida, a pair of handsome bay horses for $500, cash. These horses have been much admired by all who have seen them. They were extra good ones, the only kind Mr. Adams handles. Mr. Adams has another team of bays, for which he has been offered a much better price than what these brought.

Might Work Elsewhere.

An Iowa newspaper says the ladies of a prominent church in a certain town advertised to give an ice cream sociable and that all the ladies would wear bloomers. The whole town turned out, including a hundred old sinners who had not been inside of a church since they were christened. The ladies kept their word, but the bloomers were large red roses pinned at their belts.

Important to Kay Peas.

A circular letter has been sent to each member of Garrard Lodge, No. 29, telling of important business that is to come up at the meeting tomorrow, Friday, night. It is hoped that the members will not overlook this matter, but be at the meeting promptly. Interest is awakening in the order, and as new officers will be elected it will be seen that all should be on hand tomorrow night.

Blind Tiger in Garrard.

Jessamine Journal:—There is a rendezvous in Garrard county, that it seems the law should break up and the guilty parties arrested. Just across the river above High Bridge on the Garrard side, whisky has been and is being sold. This was testified to by several witnesses in the murder trial here this week, who themselves had purchased the whisky.

Dont Like Huckster Wagons.

A country merchant writes The Cynthiana Democrat that the merchants of Harrison county, and, he is confident, throughout the state, are very desirous of having the present legislature do something to protect them from the huckster wagons that have become numerous since the pikes were made free. He says he has a great many farmers speak in opposition to them.

Many Enlisting.

Capt. Reed, of the Tenth Cavalry, asks THE RECORD to say that in lieu of the many discharges that will occur owing to expiration of term of service, in the United States Army, there will be a great many recruits enlisted for the different branches of the service during the next few weeks. Those wishing to enlist with "Uncle Sam" may secure whatever information they desire by writing Robt. D. Reed, Captain Tenth Cavalry, Lexington.

Terrible Times.

A sudden and severe change in the weather came Sunday night, including snow, hail, rain and a little of everything else that is disagreeable. The climax was capped Tuesday night by one of the heaviest sleets the OLDEST inhabitant ever witnessed. The ice beat up under the roofs of dwellings and business houses, and when a thaw came yesterday morning many were the ceilings, carpets, etc ruined. Nearly every house in town leaked, and, in some cases, the damage is pretty severe. The editor's room was flooded, completely ruining a carpet, the papering, some pictures, and playing the devil generally, notwithstanding the fact that a new metal roof was put on the building last summer. Being a Presbyterian, this abundance of water didn't set well anyway, with us.

College Combination.

A Lexington dispatch of the 23rd says: The board of curators of the Kentucky University met this afternoon and almost unanimously agreed to a proposition to combine that institution with the Hamilton Female College. The trustees of the latter will meet in ten days to finally decide the matter. Kentucky University has over three hundred students. Hamilton has 150 women students.

Noted Lecturer Coming.

The candy pulling, given by the "Junior Endeavor" Saturday, was so great a success that it will be repeated next Saturday afternoon. Admission ten cents. Remember the place, room just above Presbyterian church, Danville avenue. Orders for fresh candy promptly filled.

Givers Of The Phil.

The meeting of the medical society, at the Garrard Hotel Friday night, was most enjoyable in every way. Nearly all the members were present, the papers mentioned in last issue of THE RECORD were read and discussed, and an elegant spread was served by Mine Host Long. These meetings are of great benefit to the doctors, as they exchange views on knotty problems, talk over many matters of interest to the profession, and have a good social evening of it. Dr. H. C. Herring was elected president and Dr. H. M. Grant, secretary.

Farm Property Insurance.

We are making a specialty of insurance on farm dwellings, barns, etc. We insure against loss by fire, lightning, wind-storms and tornadoes, on the cash or installment plan. We represent the Home Insurance Co., of New York, and refer to any of the many thousand who have been paid for such losses. The Home Insurance Co., is the largest in America. We can make it to your interest to see us before placing your insurance. See Robt. Kinnaird at National Bank. J. D. Warren, Agt. Stanford, Ky. 1-30-2m.

Dont Cuss Beddown.

When snow or sleet falls, it beats in the tubes that cover the rods on the town clock hands. Thus forms solid cakes of ice in places that cannot be reached to get it out. Consequently the old clock stops short and never goes again 'till the sun melts the ice. This will never be prevented until a covering is placed over the faces of the clock. "Beddown" Morris has tried time and again to prevent the trouble, but it can't be helped. The clock is sadly missed by many people when it is not running.

Noted Colored Boy Preacher.

Henry Kilgore, the eleven-year-old colored boy preacher, has been engaged by the pastor of the Lancaster colored Methodist church to preach in this city next Sunday morning and evening, at 11 and 7:30 o'clock. This boy has attracted great attention all over the United States, and is said to be a preacher of unusual ability. A protracted meeting will begin at this church next Sunday, conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Crowder, and he tells us he has secured the services of Carrie King, a woman who has a national reputation as an evangelist.

Continental Kettledrum.

The entertainment given at the Garrard Opera House last Friday night, was greatly enjoyed by a large audience. The young ladies are entitled to much praise for its success. They did their part with all ease and grace, and the show was far ahead of any home talent entertainment ever presented here. The costumes were elegant. It would be impossible to find a bevy of prettier girls than those who took part, and we wish we had space to make mention of the characters separately. A neat little sum was cleared to be applied to the library fund.

The Latest Improvements.

The following letter will explain the delay in receiving a new switchboard at the local telephone exchange. Mr. Bastin wired the company to lend him one until the new one can be completed. There are three boards now in use at the exchange, which causes much extra work.

Office of Stromberg-Carlson Tel. Mfg. Co., Chicago, Jan. 24, 1902.

Bastin Telephone Co., Lancaster, Ky. Gentlemen:—Replies to your esteemed favor of recent date and further in reply to your telegram of the 20th, beg to state that we have been much delayed owing to a rush of business in the manufacture of new dies for the visual signals such as we wish to use in your board, and not desiring to send an equipment upon which we believe it possible to improve we have been delaying your board. If you are in need of a board we will gladly loan you one which you may use until the new one arrives. Trusting that this will be satisfactory and assuring you that we are anxious to furnish you with a perfect equipment, we are pleased to remain, Yours very truly,

Work for Many.

The heavy rains which fell last Saturday and Sunday have caused a considerable tide in the Kentucky river, and the mountain log dealers will have a chance to get their logs to market. Many logs are being caught in the booms at Valley View, Ford and Irvine, and the mills at those points will soon begin sawing, which will mean the employment of at least one thousand men.—Richmond Paragraph.

Stricken by Paralysis.

Sunday night about nine o'clock, Mr. John M. Higginbotham, president of the Citizens National Bank, and one of Lancaster's most prominent and popular citizens, suffered a severe stroke of paralysis, his entire right side being affected. He had retired for the night, and got up to open the door for some one to come in, when he suddenly fell. He was speechless, and until Monday morning was able to talk. He has since improved slightly, and it is thought that no serious effects will be left. Mr. Higginbotham is one of the best citizens in the county, and enjoys the confidence and respect of all.

LATER.—Mr. Higginbotham suffered considerably yesterday, and his symptoms are not at all favorable. He has recovered his speech and is perfectly conscious. Two specialists are here from Louisville in consultation with Dr. Kinnaird, as we go to work.

Of Interest in Kentucky.

Judge Pugsley, of Ohio, handed down his decision in the famous debenture cases in which William Edwards and all other holders undertook to hold the Directors and promoters liable for losses sustained by them. The court holds that the host of debenture holders who entered the "get rich" quick scheme must now take the consequences. They were parties in a gambling transaction, in a lottery, and those who enter the Courts asking for relief must enter with clean hands. The Court refused to hold Directors of the company responsible for the losses of the debenture holders which the assets would not make up. Had he done so, many of Toledo's most influential business men would have had to make good many thousands of dollars. As it stands now, the debenture holders will lose a good part of what they put in.

Danville Advocate:—Dr. George Jean will go from Washington to the Philippines, as assistant surgeon for the United States Army, in April. As stated in the Advocate some time ago, Dr. Jean has received the appointment of assistant surgeon in the United States Army with the rank of First Lieutenant, and in his examinations before the Medical Board in Washington, he stood second in list of eight who were declared proficient. Eighty stood for the examination."

Dr. Jean is well known in Garrard having lived near Bryantsville for several years. His many friends here are glad to know of his success.

Almost a Garrard County Man.

Hon. R. C. Warren, of Stanford, was in town Monday mingling with his many Garrard county friends. He tells us he is meeting with great encouragement since announcing as a candidate for Congress. This is good news to his many friends here in Garrard. Everyone knows that "Dick" Warren has been one of the hardest and most untiring workers in the Democratic ranks. In every fight since he was old enough to take part, he has worked Judging Saddle Horses.

Mr. Gooch, the English Judge of saddle horses at Madison Square Garden, New York, is having his work pretty severely criticized by the stock papers of the United States. The Rider and Driver lets him down a little easy in the following brief comment:

"We hesitate going into a detailed review of all the classes, other than those we have already dwelt upon, as the decisions were throughout so inconsistent and so much at variance with our ideas of what a saddle horse should be, that our remarks would only hurt a lot of people's feelings. Therefore we must close the subject, with the hope that next time we may get a judge who will not turn us backward, but march us ahead. We long since got beyond the styles of saddle horse that he would have us accept as the ideal—without intending to sweep all those who won ribbons into the basket of condemnation, as there were many deserving all that they won. The prospect is that our riding type will develop itself rather than be developed by any judge."

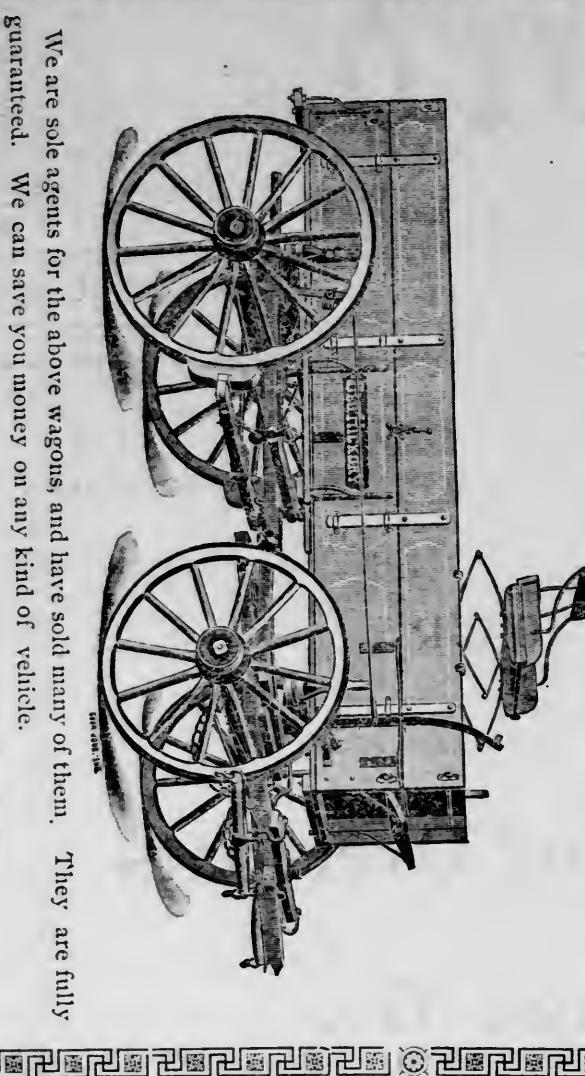

Some Gospel Truths.

An exchange hits the nail on the head when it says: "You don't know. You can't tell. You may be on the list, so don't get gay. If the town was permitted by ballot to banish ten of its most desirable citizens, we are dead sure we would receive a whole lot of votes. Did it ever occur to you that your name might also appear on the list of those who Also Ran? When you are swiping your neighbors, very likely your neighbors are swiping you. You don't know. You can't tell. There is something good, something to admire in every man. No person is entirely bad. Did you ever think of that? You are really not much better than those with whom you associate. So, for fear the town will go to voting, and that you might be included in the list of Also Ran candidates to be invited to take your foot in your hand and get out, you should not be so chipper in scalawagging others. Did it ever occur to you that the gossiping habit grows on you like the whisky habit? Well it does, and if you are told that you are counted among the biggest gossipers in town you will get mad and want to fight. Better be kind to your family and just to your neighbors. The town will be here just the same, long after you are forgotten."—Dover News.

Service Crippled.

The sleet played havoc with the telephone and electric light service. Every wire running out of town is down, while the other is a tangled mass. A large force of hands is at work on the wreck. Be patient—it can't be helped by tearing your shirt.

CENTRAL RECORD.

An Independent, Local Newspaper.
ISSUED WEEKLY.

LOUIS LANDRAM, Editor and Publisher.

Lancaster, Ky Jan. 30th 1902.

A FASHION book says "weeping women are out of style." This is too bad, for a woman that is too hardened to cry at the least little thing has no business on the earth.

SPEAKER Henderson, of the House, declares against any tariff tinkering at this session of Congress. Now, if the distinguished gentleman wants to do the right thing by the people, he will shut off tinkering of all other kinds.

A LOUISVILLE paper says the smoke that city "piles up from earth to sky." This is probably the reason that the Louisville police cannot see the gambling dens which flourish down there and are the direct cause of so much trouble.

IT is gratifying to Republicans and Democrats alike to know that Hon. Sam J. Roberts will be retained as Collector in the Lexington Revenue District. Mr. Roberts is a gentleman, in every sense of the word, and a politician of the old-time type, one who will not stoop to dirty schemes nor unfair methods.

A DELEGATION of Kentucky colored republicans have gone to Washington to demand that T. Roosevelt make room for Rastus at the pie counter. They say they are not recognized, sal, in the distribution of de offices. Rastus, should by all means be given pie, but a good fat possum would so tickle the palate of that delegation that they would return home as happy a set of coons as ever torted a razor.

If Senator Farris will change his cigarette bill and make the penalty death for being caught smoking them, the people will nearly all volunteer to carry out the law, and thus save the courts the trouble and expense of a trial. It is hoped that Senator Farris' bill to make it unlawful to sell to pesky things will become a law. If we had to choose between a skunk and cigarette fiend in our office, we would choose the former.

A SILLY bill was introduced in the Legislature to require railroads to furnish dead-head transportation back home for the men who accompany live stock from one point to another. Report says that upon examination "it was found that no other state in the Union had any such law." As a matter of course no other state has, and no other state has such laws as are many of the present ones in Kentucky which hamper railroads and drive capital from the state. If Kentucky had a railroad every half mile, she would be that much better off. Any sane, unprejudiced man knows that what Kentucky needs is more railroads.

THERE was probably never a time when politics received less consideration in Kentucky than right now, truthfully says the Hodgenville Herald. You scarcely see one item to a dozen of our country exchanges that bears on politics. There are a few old sore heads that harp on politics at the time, because they have got built that way, but the remainder of Kentucky's editors are tired of it and want a little rest on the subject, and their readers want the same thing. For two or three years our state has passed through a period of political excitement that has injured its commercial growth and general prosperity to a great degree and a spell of rest from politics, with the time applied to matters of different nature, would be beneficial to the people, to their general welfare and to politics, too.

A Good Recommendation.

"I have noticed that the sale on Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets is almost invariably to those who have once used them," says Mr. J. H. Weber, a prominent druggist of Cascade, Iowa. What better recommendation could any medicine have than for people to call for it when again in need of such a remedy? Try them when you feel dull after eating, when you have had a bad taste in your mouth, feel bilious, have no appetite or when troubled with constipation, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which they afford. For sale by R E McRoberts, druggist.

MANSE.

He has two or three buggies on hand that he is building, and they are going to be good ones. They will be strictly homemade as he makes every piece of the bed himself.

Mr. Jack Adams is quite sick with malarial fever.... Mr. W. C. Fish, Sr., has been quite sick.... W. S. Fish went to Winchester to see his brother-in-law Mr. Garrison, who is in the last stage of consumption.... Mrs. Annie Adams while sewing on a machine stuck a needle through one of her fingers. She had to make two or three pulls before she could get the needle out. She is now carrying her hand in a sling.... Miss Hattie Robertson, of Lancaster, was the guest of the Misses Francis this week.... Circuit Clerk George Moore, of Jackson, visited his brother, Postmaster Henry Moore this week.... Mason Pullins is on the sick list.... Clevie Kidwell who has been foreman at Rice's livery stable for quite awhile, has gone to Lexington to accept a more lucrative position.... Mrs. R. L. Jennings spent a few days in Lancaster with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thompson.... Miss Callie Adams, of Ripley, Ohio, came home Monday to see her father, Mr. Jack Adams, who is a very sick man.... Miss Ella Smith has gone to Lexington to take a course in Jones' Business College.... Mrs. Annie Adams has taken charge of the telephone exchange here.

Finds Way to Live Long.

The startling announcement of a discovery that will surely lengthen life is made by editor O. H. Downey, of Churubusco, Ind. "I wish to state" he writes, "that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is the most infallible remedy that I have ever known for Coughs, Colds and Grippe."

It's invaluable to people with weak lungs. Having this wonderful medicine no one need dread Pneumonia or Consumption. Its relief is instant and sure certain." R E McRoberts, Lancaster, Fish & Co., Paint Lick guarantee every 50¢ and $1 bottle, and give trial bottles free.

BRIEF SKETCH

of the Hon. James B. McCreary.

For forty years James B. McCreary has been prominent in Kentucky's history. He first came into notice in 1862, when he assisted in raising the 11th cavalry regiment for the Kentucky service, C. S. A. In this he was subsequently made Lieutenant-colonel, a rank he held at the close of the war. He served with distinction in the army of Tennessee and under Generals Morgan and Bragg and under Breckinridge in Virginia, and surrendered with his regiment at Appomattox.

He entered politics in 1866, being chosen to represent Madison county in the Kentucky Legislature, and again in 1871 and 1873 this honor was bestowed upon him without opposition from his own party. He so acquitted himself at the first session that at the two succeeding sessions he was made speaker.

In 1875, as the democratic candidate for governor, he was opposed by one of the ablest and oldest politicians of Kentucky.

The republicans had as their candidate the Hon. John M. Harlan, now one of the Justices of the Supreme court of the United States. McCreary was elected by 37,000 majority. After retiring from the executive office he was re-elected to the 50th, 51st, 52nd, 53rd and 54th sessions.

For twelve years he was a member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House. He was twice its chairman. He was also a member of the committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures and the World's Fair and Private Land Claims. He was the author of the bill establishing a "Land Court" to adjudicate the claims growing out of the treaties between the United States and Mexico, known as the "Garden Treaty," and the "Gaudaloupe-Hidalgo Treaty." He was also the author of the bill which provided for the Pan-American Congress.

Gov. McCreary was appointed by the President of the United States in 1892, one of the five commissioners to represent the United States in the International Monetary Conference. In that conference he distinguished himself as an advocate of bimetallism.

Although in public life, both military and civil, for more than 30 years, Gov. McCreary has lost none of his physical or mental vigor. By his long experience, political knowledge and acquirements, he has thoroughly fitted himself to become the representative of Kentucky in the United States Senate.

Cure for Lumbago.

W. C. Williamson, of Amherst, Va. says: "For more than a year I suffered from lumbago. I finally tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it gave me entire relief, which all other remedies had failed to do." Sold by R E McRoberts, druggist.

Miss Lizzie Clark, of Camden, Mo., is visiting her cousin, Pauline Burdett,.... Mrs. Pointer, of the Buena Vista neighborhood died on the 25th of January.... Mr. Louis Cheatham while at a neighbor's house, committed suicide last Thursday by shooting himself. No cause is assigned for the act.... Bro. Garrison, of Danville, will preach at Pleasant Grove Sunday afternoon at half past two o'clock.

DIED IN PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

Joe Gaines, a Lancaster Boy, Succeeded to Dysentery While Serving as Member of Co. F, 6th Infantry.

Mr. B. W. Gaines, of this city, received letters Monday from Bacolod, P. I., announcing the death of his son, Joe, in the hospital there on Dec. 14th. The letter was from Lieut. Bowen, who spoke of the splendid record made by the soldier, of his bravery and popularity. The officer said Mr. Gaines was only sick for a few days, nothing out of the ordinary complaints appearing, but he grew rapidly worse and died in a few days after being taken to the hospital. The following letter was also received from one of Mr. Gaines' comrades:

Bacolod, P. I., Dec. 15, 1901.

Mr. A. Gaines: Dear Sir:—It is with the deepest grief that one can feel for his best friend and comrade that I write you a short but sincere letter to tell you of the sad death of your son, Joseph Gaines. Forgive me, dear sir, for being brief in this letter, as I suppose you have already received an official report of his death. In speaking of our departed comrade, the members of his company, "F," wish to send their condolences to the family and friends of him who is no longer in our ranks, but whose memory as a true friend and comrade will always remain warm in our hearts. There was no better soldier in this command than was Joe. He had a cheerful word for all, and where duty to his fellow soldier called, he always responded with willingness and cheer. He was not sick but a few days, and no one thought him dangerously ill, as he was previously in splendid health. He was buried here with military honors, the body being placed in a vault to await instructions from you, before shipping to the States. Many beautiful floral designs were placed on his casket by soldiers and other Americans here. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Chas. Briggs, one of the missionaries here. It seems hard for one so young to be called away, but remember, dear friend, that our just God gives us our lives, and he surely will demand them of us, sooner or later. With deepest sympathy, I remain,

Yours in sorrow,
Benj. F. Warren,
Co. F, 6th Inf'ty.

Women and Jewels

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get Dr. G. Green's reliable remedies at Stormes' drug store. Get Green's Special Almanac.

'Bucks Meets All Trains.'

Alex Miller has purchased a handsome closed carriage, which will meet all trains day and night. His telephone number is 122, and if you will call him up, the carriage will call for you and take you to the train in plenty of time. His charge is very small, and the service first-class. A call left at the Garrard hotel will receive prompt attention. Alex is certainly entitled to much praise for his enterprise.

Fatal kidney and bladder troubles can always be prevented by the use of Foley's Kidney Cure. C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

Some stories are too true to be good.

"Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prendergast, merchant, Annatto Bay, Jamaica.

The pains in the chest indicated an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. Sold by R E McRoberts, druggist.

Truth is mighty—mighty inconvenient in a horse trade.

The many friends of G. H. Hausan, Englehardt, L. E. & W. R. R., at present living at Lima, O., will be pleased to know of his recovery from threatened kidney disease. Pneumonia and La Grippe.

If you but know the splendid merit of Foley's Honey and Tar you would never be without it. A dose or two will prevent an attack of pneumonia or la grippe. It may save your life. The prevention of consumption is entirely a question of commencing the proper treatment in time. Nothing is so well adapted to ward off fatal lung troubles as Foley's Honey and Tar. C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

REMARKABLE CURE OF CROUP.

A Little Boy's Life Saved. I have a few words to say regarding Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It saved my little boy's life and I feel that I cannot praise it enough. I bought a bottle of it from A. E. Steere of Goodwin, S. D., and when I got home with it the poor baby could hardly breathe. I gave the medicine as directed every ten minutes until he "threw up" and then I thought sure he was going to choke to death. We had to pull the phlegm out of his mouth in great long strings. I am positive that if I had not got that bottle of cough medicine, my boy would not be on earth today.—Joel Demont, Inwood, Iowa. For sale by R E McRoberts, druggist.

CANCER

Sufferers from this horrible malady nearly always inherit it—not necessarily from the parents, but may be from some remote ancestor, for Cancer often runs through several generations. This deadly poison may lay dormant in the blood for years, or until you reach middle life, then the first little tumor makes its appearance, or a swollen gland in the breast, or some other part of the body. Give the first warning.

To cure Cancer thoroughly and permanently all the poisonous virus must be eliminated from the blood—every vestige of it driven out. This S. S. S. does, and is the only medicine that can reach deep seated, obstinate blood troubles like this. When all the poison has been forced out of the system—Cancer heals, and the disease never returns.

Cancer begins often in a small way, as the following letter from Mrs. Shirer shows:

A small pimple came on my law about an inch below the ear on the left side of my face. It gave me some trouble, and I should have forgotten about it had it not begun to increase in size and become a little, then scar over, but would not heal. This continued for sometime when my jaw began to swell, becoming very painful, and I was unable to eat and spread, until it was as large as a half dollar. I consulted of S. S. S. and determined to give it a trial, and was taking a few doses when the swelling went down, what a wonderful effect.

It had from the very beginning: the swelling began to go down, and after taking a few doses entirely. This was two years ago; there are still no signs of the Cancer, and my general health continues good.—Mrs. R. C. Shirer, L. L. M. A. Atlanta, Ga.

The State Food and Dairy Commissioner of the State of Washington estimates the number of creameries in the State in 1901 at 317, and the production of butter at 4,500,000 pounds, as against 194 creameries in 1900 and an actual butter output of 5,736,757 pounds.

Danville Advocate.—Mr. E. P. Faulconer during the past week has purchased 15,000 pounds of tobacco at from four to five cents a pound. Mr. Faulconer has rented the room adjoining Stodghill's stable, and is storing the weed there preparatory to sorting it and otherwise preparing it for the market.

There were 150 to 200 cattle here Monday, and the demand being good, nearly all changed hands. The prevailing price was 3*t* to 4*c*. Butcher cattle brought 3*t* to 4*c*. A number of mules were on the market, bringing $60 to $130. Mr. Adams, of the stock pens, says there were also a lot of heifers which brought 3*t* to 4*c*.

A bill was introduced in the Kentucky Legislature appropriating $15,000 to be given in premiums in a State fair to be held and operated by the Kentucky Live Stock Breeders' Association. We hope many of our readers will write their country representatives in the legislature at once and urge them to vote for this bill. This is the only legislation of importance that farmers are asking.

At the Turf Congress in New York it was decided by delegates from the National and American trotting associations that in matinee races where no gate money is demanded, no entrance fee exacted, no prizes awarded and no betting allowed, no records can be made. This disposes of a question that has been agitating amateur horsemen for some time, who did not desire to have their horses penalized by records or bars in engaging in friendly contests for which no purses were offered. Records made in the past in this way were canceled.

H. F. Hillenmeyer the well known nurseryman, of Lexington, says of the wheat crop prospects: "This promises to be the banner year in wheat. Press reports say that wheat is killed, but such is not the case in this region. The leaves that are just coming out of the ground are seared by the frost, but are uninjured. The plant has not grown any for the past month on account of a lack of rain, the frost and the wind. A close examination of the plant shows that it is not injured. A general survey of the wheat field, however, would indicate that the plant is dead. The same conditions prevailed last year and the wheat was not injured. I don't think it will likely be injured from now forward. If it should turn very cold, snow will likely protect it, and on the whole I think the wheat prospect of Fayette county this year brighter than usual."

Brain-Food Nonsense.

Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for brains. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutrient is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent them coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at Stormes' drug store. Get Green's Special Almanac. 6m

ORCHARD CULTIVATION.*

The Advantages of a High Crop of Rye on Northern Sections Cannot Be Overestimated.

There is little question in the mind of any intelligent farmer about the value of orchard cultivation up to the bearing period, but not all agree that it should extend beyond. Nevertheless there is nothing worse for an orchard than a bare soil left to take care of itself. Weeds will invariably appear in such a soil, and these will do considerable harm in robbing the land of the richness which the trees need. There must be some counter-balancing method. Of the many experiments made with orchards that have been treated with and without cultivation after the trees begin to produce, the great majority showed a decided improvement in favor of those which have been cultivated. This, however, does not mean any more than mere surface cultivation, and for that matter not much more than a surface scratching of the ground in the spring sufficient to make grass or grain seed catch. There is no better plant fertilizer than good rye turned under or allowed to decay in the field. Every crop of this that we can raise and return to the soil should increase the fertility, so that the young and old trees will make a new growth.

The plowing of the surface in the spring should not interfere with the roots of the trees. Indeed, special care should be taken to avoid any such contingency. The soil can easily be stirred to sufficient depth to make the seeds grow without touching the roots. If these latter run very close to the surface, the plow or cultivator should not be run up near the trees; but as a rule this stirring of the top soil every year tends to make the roots of the trees seek a lower level, and in orchards that have been cultivated from the beginning little trouble will be experienced with the surface roots. Sow from one to two bushels of rye to the acre, so that the ground will be covered before winter. This will help to protect the roots of the trees from the severe cold, and the following spring when turned under the rye will add rich fertility to the soil.

The advantage of a high crop of rye in the orchard in the fall in the states where the winter freezing is apt to injure fruit trees cannot be overestimated. The tall rye proves a most effectual blanket to the tree roots and trunks, and few trees are injured from freezing when treated in this way. The thick rye is really warmer and superior to a covering of snow. When feed is scarce the temptation to cut the rye in the orchard is great, but do not yield to it. No orchard can thrive which is systematically robbed of its fertility.—S. W. Chambers, in Journal of Agriculture.

Are you not, then, to pull the mole out of your brother's eye?" BOTH FOOD AND MEDICINE.

The Fruit Cure is becoming more and more prevalent for some of the ills of the Human Body.

The creative value of fruit is becoming more and more insisted upon by those who make a study of dietetics.

Grapes are recommended for the dyspeptic, the consumptive, the anæmic, and for those with a tendency to gout and liver troubles. Plums, also, are said to be a cure for gouty and rheumatic tendencies. The acid fruits, especially lemons and oranges, are particularly good for stomach troubles and rheumatism, says the Syracuse Clinic.

It is not sufficient, say the advocates of the fruit cure, to eat a small quantity at breakfast or dinner. One should eat from two to eight pounds of grapes a day, or, if oranges are the creative agency, the number to be eaten in a day may vary from three to six.

A healthy condition of the body depends upon perfect balance of foods taken. There are many other factors entering into the question, but this feature must not be forgotten. Few people there are who can keep healthy without fruit.

How absurd, some one says, to be told to eat fruit when everybody eats it. Yes, but how do you eat it? Do you take a definite amount of it, the same as you do of meat and potatoes, or do you eat it as you do candy?

If you suffer from an acute attack of indigestion after a dinner of soup, meats, pickles, sauerkraut, cakes, pastries, with spices and condiments enough to blister the skin, to say nothing of the delicate lining of the stomach, pray do not aver that indigestion arises from the morsel of fruit taken at the end.

Be honest with your stomach for a month. Eat no more than you need of simple food, into which the true luxuries of nature, such as apples, oranges, pears or other fruit, shall enter. Try, if only as an interesting experiment, to eat sparingly of the cruder articles of diet, and more of those suited to your real needs, and see to it that fruit forms a part of each meal.

"But there are so many kinds of fruit that I cannot eat."

"There it is again. Because you cannot eat 17 kinds of food at one meal ending with fruit, it of course, was the apple, or the strawberries that did the harm."

"But doesn't fruit make the blood thin?"

"It certainly does, and we are mighty glad of it. Ask any doctor who has practiced medicine for ten years with his eyes open, and he will tell you that the great majority of grown-up folks have blood too thick.

"The minerals and natural acids of the fruit are the very best conceivable remedies for this thickened condition of the blood. Fruit then becomes both a food and a medicine—a necessity and a most delightful luxury."

A Profitable Investment.

"I was troubled for about seven years with my stomach and in bed half my time," says E. Demick, Somerville, Ind. "I spent about $1,000 and never could get anything to help me until I tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have taken a few bottles and am entirely well."

You don't live by what you eat, but by what you digest and assimilate. If your stomach doesn't digest your food you are really starving.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does the stomach's work by digesting the food. You don't have to diet. Eat all you want. Kodol Dyspepsia cures all stomach troubles. F. P. Frisbie.

The dairyman who this past summer has seen his cows shrinking, feels inclined to shut the barn door.

How may he do this best? If he has planted soiling crops like peas and oats, Hungarian millet, and the like,

he has been supplementing the dying pastures with green feed in the barn or yard, he has closed the door before rather than after the theft.

Moreover, the necessity for the summer feeding of grain is greatly lessened.

If he has no recourse to soiling crops, nothing but buying grain can lessen the shrinkage.

The Vermont experiment station has for many years experimented with soiling crops, and recommends to dairymen the large use of summer ensilage and oats and peas sown at regular intervals, and fed during

July and August. Ensilage is probably the cheaper food; oats and peas somewhat the better. If the former is contemplated as a steady summer diet for years, it would be well to consider the erection of a special summer silos, preferably round, with a small diameter and a relatively great depth.

Ensilage spread over a large surface in summer spoils rapidly and loses largely in feeding value. If oats and peas are chosen, they should be sown in successive lots at weekly intervals, the two sown separately, the peas first rather deeply and harrowed in; the oats two or three days later and bushed in. A better catch is likely to be secured in this way than if sown together. The crop may be either fed green, hayed or put in the silo. Let
